BASEBALL EQUIPMENT WANTED FOR SOLDIERS

Will You Contribute Something, or the Money to Buy It for Balloon School

WANTED: For the Balloon School soldiers: baseballs, bats, gloves and other athletic paraphernalia. Money to buy such equipment will also be welcome. Bring contributions to the News office.

If you were a baseball fan and saw a big bunch of boys in khaki trying to amuse themselves at the National game with a split bat and a couple of bewhiskered balls—wouldn't it jar you? It would.

At any rate that was the effect on Donald Ashmore last night as he passed the camp at Arcadia. He Forded right home, dug up a couple of baseballs, a big mitt and a set of boxing gloves as a starter and brought them down to the News office. Pretty soon he came back with a new bat contributed by H. W. Sander, and word of more contributions in sight. So don't delay. Dig up the balls and bats and gloves you aren't using and bring them along.

The boys can't get over the difference between their treatment in California and Texas. Mr. Ashmore mentioned to the boys with whom he was talking that he had some baseball stuff he was not using, one of the boys asked about what it would be worth.

"Oh, you couldn't imagine money enough to buy it—you're not in Texas now!" was the reply.

"You said something that time," was the fervent rejoinder of the soldier boy.

PAY YOURSELF FOR DELIVERING GOODS

M. D. Welsher announces a new departure for Sierra Madre to take effect August 1. All deliveries of groceries and meat will be stopped except on orders amounting to $5 or more.

Several government agencies have called attention to the economic waste of delivery systems in the average town. Appeals have been made for the conservation of the man-power and the equipment so used. Mr. Welsher proposes to put this counsel into effect August 1.

Of course it is not to be expected that customers will welcome the elimination of the delivery system unless there is some compensatory feature for them. This Mr. Welsher promises in the form of price reductions which will give force to the slogan: "Carry your groceries and save money."

Few people realize the huge expense involved in operating a store delivery system. Many people are absolutely inconsiderate in ordering goods, demanding delivery of five or ten cents worth and claiming a merchant is unaccommodating if he refuses to do it promptly. The actual expense to the merchant may actually exceed the retail price of the article delivered.

MASONIC LODGE PLANS A SMOKER

Members of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M., will hold a smoker in the lodge hall next Tuesday evening. Some of the members of the order stationed at Arcadia Field are expected to be present and all members of the order residing here are cordially invited to attend.

WATER SUPPLY INCREASED GREATLY

With the new pump at city well No. 2 in smooth working order and producing 120 miner's inches of water on demand, all the city officials are breathing easier, especially Chairman Holabird of the water committee and Water Supt. Biederman.

The pump is pronounced by all to be highly satisfactory. The water now goes up through the pipes to the reservoir without a sign of "pounding" and faster than it can be relayed to the main reservoir. Consequently the big pump is not running all the time.

The increased supply and assurance that there will be no shortage is of particular interest and satisfaction to the orchardists. They have been holding back on irrigation by request, pending completion of the new pumping equipment. As a result there will be heavy demand on the water system until they have caught up with their season's irrigation schedule.

Inspected Canyon — and Mrs. Mesecar are as happy A. M. Udell made a trip of inspection up the Little Santa Anita Canyon as far as the Hall Way house. They found sanitary conditions much improved over what was shown by previous inspections.

Col. Holabird gives assurance that all unsatisfactory conditions will be remedied. If voluntary action cannot be secured from responsible persons, state law will be invoked.

Tests of samples taken within the last week show the condition of the water from the upper canyon is also much improved. At the same time the quantity of water received from that source is diminishing daily under the influence of the summer sun, so that less than ten per cent of the water used comes from the upper canyon. With the very great dilution thus effected and the improved sanitary conditions reported, there seems to be no cause for alarm over immediate conditions of the water. If the water system were in apathetic hands and there was no prospect of improvement it would be different.

Encouraging Prospects

Engineer Olmstead who has been making a survey of the entire water situation is bringing his work to completion. He reports orally to Col. Holabird the prospect of being able to add materially to the supply of gravity water at comparatively low expense.

NEW JEWELRY STORE BRINGS COMPLIMENTS

Frank Fraiberg has opened his new jewelry store and presents for public inspection one of the finest little establishments imaginable. The interior is finished in white enamel, and the furniture in mahogany. An attractive display window adds a vast improvement to the frontage of the block. Mr. Fraiberg is now busy trying to catch up with the repair work which piled up during the time he was preparing for the opening. So many expressions of appreciation have been heard for his enterprise that he feels encouraged to believe the venture will be worth while.

THE PATRIOTIC DUTY OF THE HOUR

By Franklin Hichborn

Would you serve Democracy? Then live for Democracy! Do your part in Democracy! Register and vote!

Over across the Atlantic men are making the supreme sacrifice. They are giving their lives that government of the people, by the people and for the people—Democracy if you like,—may not perish from the earth.

We at home are not called upon to make the supreme sacrifice—not called upon to die for the cause of Democracy. But we are called upon to live for Democracy; to live our part in Democracy; to take our part in government of the people, by the people and for the people. Failure to do this is failure to support the cause for which men in the trenches are dying; failure to do our bit in the fight for Democracy.

The citizen who neglects to participate at elections does not do his part in government; does not live for Democracy. If Democracy is worth fighting for and dying for, it is worth living for and voting for.

Democracy needs at times men with guns in their hands. But Democracy must always have citizens with ballots in their hands, unless it is to perish from the earth.

On August 27th, next, a general primary election will be held throughout California to name candidates for state, legislative, county and township offices.

The citizen, to vote at that election, must have registered from the precinct of his present residence since January 1, 1918.

Registration closes on July 27—Saturday of next week.

What have you done about it?

Have you yourself registered?

Have you exerted yourself to get your neighbors and your friends to register?

Unless you are registered by July 27th you will not be qualified to vote at the August primary; you will be merely dead timber in Democracy. And all the Liberty Bond buttons, and all the Red Cross buttons in the world, and all the protestations of patriotism and of loyalty to Democracy, will not then suffice to make you live timber at this very important test of Democracy—the primary election of August 27, 1918.

BIG WORK QUOTA FOR RED CROSS

Heavy Demands are Made on Local Chapter for This Quarter

Unusually heavy allotments of various classes of work were assigned to Sierra Madre Chapter of the Red Cross for the present quarter by the Department of Production at San Francisco.

As the amount of work asked for will prove a heavy task during the vacation season, Chairman J. D. Mackerras urges that every worker in town devote all possible efforts to the work.

Among the things asked for are 200 pairs of bed socks, 250 day shirts, 400 children's petticoats, 500 pairs socks, 100 helmets and 25 heavy sweaters.

These garments can be taken home. Those going to the beach for a few weeks are asked to take some of this work with them.

The allotment for the gauze rooms has not been received as yet, owing to changes being made in the sizes of dressings.

The Franco-Belgian Relief committee have another shipment of five boxes ready to go. This committee ask only for old clothing which is clean and capable of being made over into serviceable garments. Such articles of clothing may be left at the chapter rooms any afternoon except Saturday.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC PUTS ON PAINT

All dolled up in glossy new paint, the Pacific Electric station looks like new—or better. The walls are a clean gray, with darker gray trim. The roof is the greenest green this side of Ireland. Agent George Mesecar and Mrs. Mesecar are as happy as a small boy with a new red wagon.

MRS. J. G. CARSON SUCCUMBS TO STROKE

Mrs. Alpha O. Carson, wife of J. Gamble Carson, passed away Thursday afternoon, the victim of a stroke sustained in the forenoon while making preparations for a pleasure trip.

Tragic in its suddenness and lack of warning, the death of Mrs. Carson was a shock to all who knew her. She had risen in the morning in the best of spirits and apparent health. Mr. and Mrs. Carson had arranged to drive to San Diego and were preparing their auto for the trip when the stroke came. She became unconscious and in spite of all that could be done for her she never regained consciousness before passing out late in the afternoon.

Mrs. Carson was a woman of gracious personality who had won many friends during her comparatively brief residence here. During the past year she and her husband had built and prepared for their home the magnificent residence and surrounding grounds lying between East Alegria and Sturtevant Road.

WOULD FORM PUBLIC SERVICE BODY HERE

Local Branch of State Organization for Reform is Proposed

Sierra Madre people will have an opportunity to join in the movement started by 100 Los Angeles business men under the name of the Association for the Betterment of Public Service. Col. W. H. Holabird invites all citizens interested in the project to communicate with him. If sufficient interest is displayed steps will be taken to form the local branch.

Purposes of Body

The head of the Los Angeles body is W. A. Barker. Its purposes are thus set forth by Harold Janss, director of publicity:

- 1: To arouse universal interest in public service.
- 2: To secure the election of able, fearless men of high standing to public office.
- 3: To secure strictest economy in state and county affairs.
- 4: To abolish all commissions, bureaus and political jobs not necessary to efficient government and to combine and co-ordinate commissions having similar duties.
- 5: To discourage class instinct, class hatred and class legislation, and to inculcate a spirit of loyalty to the American government.

The association is intended to devote its attention to county and state affairs.

CALEY-HAWKINS

A very pretty home wedding was that of Miss Maybelle Caley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Caley of Sierra Madre, to Mr. Clinton G. Hawkins of Painesville, Ohio, the ceremony taking place at the home of the groom's mother at that place on the afternoon of July 8th.

The rooms were prettily decorated with wild flowers, the music room where the ceremony took place being a bower of white daisies and pink wild roses.

Miss Hilda Caley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Florence Englehart sang. And as the bride's parents were unable to be present, her uncle, Mr. W. D. Fraser of Cleveland, attended her and gave her away. Dr. Greenfield of Erie, Pa., an uncle of the groom, was best man, and Rev. Christy of the Congregational Church officiated. The bride's gown was of white satin and Georgette crepe with pearl trimmings. She wore a "handed down" veil of lace caught with orange blossoms and carried white carnations and fern. A delicious wedding supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins left on an auto trip of a few days.

The bride has grown to young womanhood in Sierra Madre, a favorite among a large circle of friends. She is a member of the Eleven and One Club and has been active in the young people's work of the Congregational Church. The groom was in the office of an eastern railroad before enlisting. He was in training at Camp Sherman but was released for the present to undertake the management of his mother's large stock farm.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. Robert M. Webster will again occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church on Sunday morning. There will be no evening service.

Encouraging reports are received as to the condition of Rev. C. C. Wilson who was taken to the hospital last week on account of an acute attack of stomach trouble. He has so far recovered as to be able to rejoin his family at Huntington Beach though he will be confined to his bed for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merrill and son Wayne, accompanied by Miss Jessie Ward, leave today on a motor outing trip. They plan to spend a week at Santa Cruz, after which they will go to San Jose to spend several weeks.

England Preserves Without Sugar by Pulping Fruit

Every housekeeper is anxious to build up safe reserves of fruit and vegetables for winter, and a good provider takes justifiable pride in well-filled shelves. To such women the 25 pound allotment of sugar, or even a more generous allowance for canning, will not provide a safe margin unless there is a careful allocation—so much sugar for cherries, and so much for peaches—and this program backed up with generous supplies canned without sugar.

England has adopted a method of preserving fruit without sugar, known as "pulsing," that is employed both commercially and in the homes. This method is economical of jars, as no water is used in canning the fruit.

The method, according to the Bulletin of the Royal Horticultural Society, is as follows: Pack sterilized jars full of fruit, add no water, place rubbers and caps in position, and fill pan with water up to the shoulders of the bottles. Place pan on fire and bring water to the simmering point and keep it at this point half an hour. Remove bottles and fill them one from the other, replace rubbers and caps, and put the bottles back in the pan and bring them up to the simmering point again for another five minutes. Take them out one at a time and screw down the tops. Invert to cool and test the joints. Wrap in paper to prevent bleaching and store in a dry, cool place.

Cooking the fruit before bottling is a simple method of pulsing, but the fruit will be darker than if the above method is followed. This method is as follows: Place fruit over a gentle heat until enough moisture comes out to prevent burning, then increase the heat until the fruit boils. Boil an hour, stirring all the time, and can, following usual methods of sterilizing. In putting up apples a little water will have to be added to the fruit to prevent burning.

Pulsed fruit can be used for jam, stewed fruit, puddings and pies. The English housewife who has to be very careful of sugar makes up pulp into jam one jar at a time, allowing half a pint of sugar to a pint of fruit. This does not make so sweet a jam as the usual quantity of sugar, but as this English woman writes, "It is quite good enough and in these days jam of any kind is almost a luxury."

Sugarless Recipes

1½ cups purified rice bran
½ teaspoon each of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves
Bake in a loaf 45 minutes. Put in slow oven and increase heat after 20 minutes.

SPICE CAKE

1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon allspice

Cream the fat and egg yolks. Add the syrup and mix well. Add alternately the liquid, and the dry ingredients sifted together. Add the flavoring and fold in the well beaten whites of the eggs. Bake for one hour in a moderate oven.

How America Stands on Sugar

"How do we stand on sugar?" The question must be answered every day for the next six months by every consumer.

In answer to a similar query a member of the English Parliament said, "There is no prospect of any improvement in the national stocks of sugar so long as the war continues."

There is no such finality about the American sugar situation, but this calm acceptance of facts goes a long way in solving war problems. America, England, France and Italy depend mainly on Cuba for sugar. This means that so long as the war continues it is likely that the Allies will be on a meager sugar ration and America on a short allowance.

An improvement in shipping conditions would of course relieve the situation but distribution from now until the new crop comes in must be based on the sugar in sight and not on probable supplies. Facing the facts, the Food Administration has restricted the allowance of sugar in less essential food products in order to maintain a monthly ration of three pounds to consumers and provide sugar for both commercial and home canning.

In the plan of distribution which was put in force July 1, manufacturers of candy, soft drinks, tobacco, wine and such less essential products, were cut to 50 per cent of normal requirements. Ice cream makers will be allowed 75 per cent and canners of fruits and vegetables 100 per cent. No sugar can be sold to manufacturers, to retail merchants or to proprietors of eating places except on certificate from the local Food Administrator indicating the quantity that may be bought.

The householder is on honor to ration his family to three pounds a month per person and is urged to co-operate with the Government in a fair distribution of sugar supplies. If the sugar is available, home canners can obtain more than the 25-pound allowance for canning on approval of local administrators.

With the hearty co-operation of the public the Food Administration expects to avoid any serious scarcity of sugar for home consumption. The situation calls for a cheerful acceptance of facts and an all round reciprocity on sugar—reciprocity between nations, between consumers and manufacturers, and between the American public and the Food Administration. Common sense and reciprocity all around will bring us to the end of the year without an embarrassing shortage.

Canning Fruits Without Sugar

By DIVISION OF VITICULTURE, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

The sugar used in canning or bottling fruit is for the purpose of improving the flavor and is not necessary for preservation.

Fruit of any kind suitable for canning may be preserved without any sugar. When the fruit is consumed, the sugar can be added exactly as is done with fresh fruit. If the fruit when canned is thoroughly ripe it may be consumed without this addition of sugar and is sweet enough for many tastes.

The ordinary methods of home canning are used. These are the "cold pack" and "hot pack" methods.

For the former the fruit is washed, peeled, pitted or cored as needed and packed tight in clean, scalded cans or jars. Water is then added, boiling in the case of cans, and as hot as possible without cracking the glass in the case of jars. Scalded caps or covers and rubbers are then put in place loosely and the filled cans heated in a vessel of boiling water for twenty to forty minutes. An ordinary wash boiler furnished with a wire screen or a wooden grating on which to place the jars is suitable for this purpose. The boiler should contain enough water to rise about half-way up the sides of the jars.

While still at the boiling temperature the jars or cans are removed, sealed and placed to cool, lying horizontally or upside down.

For the "hot pack" method the prepared fruit is placed in a large pot on the stove with a little water to prevent burning. After heating to the boiling point and cooking until the fruit is tender and some of the juice has exuded, it is poured into the cans or heated jars by means of a perforated or wire ladle and a wide funnel. Sufficient juice from the pot is then added just to cover the fruit and the cans or jars sealed. These are then heated in the boiler for about twenty minutes. For a second batch of the same fruit the juice remaining in the pot should be used instead of water for the preliminary cooking.

With some fruits there will be an excess of juice. This can be used in the canning of other kinds of fruit or for making blended jams, marmalades or jellies. In cases where there is not sufficient juice to cover the fruit when placed in the jars sufficient hot water may be added for this purpose.

The ripeness of the fruit, providing it is sound, the more sugar, flavor, and nutrient it contains.

CHOCOLATE CORNSTARCH PUDDING

2 cups milk
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons corn syrup
1 square chocolate
Melt the chocolate over hot water. Scald 1½ cups of milk, and add the corn syrup. Mix sugar, salt and cornstarch together, and stir in the cold milk to make a smooth mixture. Gradually add this to the scalded milk, and then add all the liquid to the melted chocolate, stirring constantly. Cook 20 minutes in a double boiler, stirring until thickened, add vanilla, pour into molds which have been dipped into cold water. Chill.

COCOA

4 tablespoons cocoa
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
3 tablespoons corn syrup
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
2 cups scalded milk
¾ teaspoon vanilla
Mix together the cocoa, cornstarch, salt and sugar. Add the boiling water and cook for 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Add syrup, scalded milk and flavoring. Beat with a Dover egg beater before serving.

COCOANUT AND MARMALADE JELLY

2½ tablespoons gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 cup hot milk
½ cup cold milk
¼ cup peach, plum, orange other marmalade
1 cup canned coconut
Corn syrup
Soak the gelatin in the cold water for 5 minutes; then dissolve it in the hot milk. If the milk curdles, beat it smooth with an egg beater. Add the marmalade. Add sufficient corn syrup to the milk drained from the coconut to make 1 cup. Add this to the hot milk. Stir the mixture well and when it is cold, add the coconut and the cold milk. Pour it into a mold, and chill. The marmalade may be used to garnish the pudding instead of being molded into it.

PEANUT HONEY CANDY

1 cup butter
2 cups honey
1 cup boiling water
Few grains bicarbonate of soda
1 cup shelled peanuts
Method
Chop the peanuts fine and spread over bottom of greased pan. Mix the other ingredients and cook to "hard ball" stage and pour over the peanuts; let partially cool; cut in strips. Roll and cut crosswise.

TO REACH SIERRA MADRE

By Trolley—Take Sierra Madre cars leaving hourly at Pacific Electric station, Sixth and Main, Los Angeles. The scenic ride is the most beautiful on the P. E. system. From Pasadena, take Lamanda Park car and change at Lamanda Park Junction.

By Auto—From Los Angeles, take North Broadway or Mission Road to Huntington Drive, follow as far as Lamanda Park Junction, east on Colorado Street to Santa Anita, north to Foothill Boulevard, east to Sierra Madre Avenue, north to Central Avenue, Sierra Madre.

IDEAL HOME COMMUNITY

Sierra Madre's peculiar charm has been felt and praised by nearly everyone who ever visited or lived here. Many factors combine to make the charm potent—the sense of exaltation in life on the heights; the inspiring views; the invigorating air, kept pure by currents moving continually up and down the foothill slope; the feeling of intimacy with the nearby mountains; the ease with which a love for outdoor life and recreation is gratified; the great variety of available homesites; the conveniences of the city with all the joys of life in the country.

It is as a home community that Sierra Madre claims pre-eminence. Here you can have a small house and lot, a larger place with fruit and a garden plot, or acres with an orchard. Everything grows well here and Sierra Madre has suffered less from frost than any other community in the citrus region.

No community has a higher type of citizenship. Socially and morally Sierra Madre ranks high. There is a cosmopolitan population recruited from all over the world, a fact of keen interest to many people.

"Over the top" a community habit in patriotic efforts. Pioneer Red Cross chapter which won silver cup in national membership contest.

EXPENSES AND OUTLAYS OF THE STATE

An interesting and highly valuable collection of data on the "expenses and outlays" of the state government of California for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1902 and 1917 respectively, has just been published by the Tax Payers' Association of California in the form of a set of graphic charts. It is said these charts are to be given wide distribution through the state.

It is shown that in the 16 years mentioned, the expenses of the state, exclusive of trust fund and agency transactions, reimbursements of counties, bond redemption, book transactions, transfers, etc., in other words, the actual expenses, have amounted to $221,336,410.34, and that the annual expense has jumped from $8,207,594.14 in 1902 to $23,266,858.53 in 1917. The total outlays for the period have amounted to $52,420,315.08.

The charts exhibit the expenses and outlays, with population, year by year, also giving the annual per capita of outlays and expenses. Following the chart showing the totals appear other charts giving the expenses and outlays classified as follows: Legislative; Executive; Judicial; Protection to Persons and Property; Conservation of Natural Resources; Health and Sanitation; Public Works, Parks, etc.; Charities, Hospitals and Corrections; Education; Public Expositions; Debt Service and Miscellaneous. A final chart exhibits the expenses, year by year, of the numerous boards, commissions, etc., which expenses exclusive of outlays for permanent improvements, have advanced from $228,416.83 in 1902 to $2,597,672.14 in 1917.

Accompanying the charts is brief but interesting text, showing the 126 officers, boards, bureaus, commissions, etc., which compose the state government. The functions of each are set forth.

The Association declares that most of these agencies of the state exist by statute, and recommends reorganization work by the next legislature whereby much of the duplication and overlapping of functions now existing may be done away with. Under the plan proposed, the activities of the state should be grouped into and carried on by ten or twelve general departments, and the entire government thus simplified.

The following plan of reorganization is tentatively advanced, and the Association declares that it will give more detailed information in support of its recommendations in the near future:

Governor—Legislature—Courts

Department of Finance—To have control over all financial policies and functions.

Department of Agriculture—To have control over all agricultural agencies.

Department of Natural Resources—To have control over all agencies employed in the conservation and development of natural resources.

Department of Health—To have control over all health agencies.

Department of Charities, Hospitals and Corrections—To have control over all institutions and agencies in this classification.

Department of Education—Duties suggested by title.

Department of Commerce—To control all agencies dealing with the regulation of business, public utilities, etc.

Department of Social Welfare—To control all agencies dealing with social economics and functions allied thereto.

Department of Public Works and Parks—To control all engineering work, construction, parks, reservations, monuments, etc.

Department of Labor—To deal with all agencies related to labor.

REHABILITATION OF OUR WOUNDED

Perhaps none of the various uses to which the proceeds of the Liberty Loans are to be devoted appeals more strongly to the American people than the rehabilitation and re-education of our wounded men. To teach these men, to train and fit them for useful and gainful occupations, when by reason of loss of sight or limbs or other injuries they are rendered unable to pursue ordinary vocations, is a work in which every American has a heartfelt interest.

Compensation will be allowed them and family allowances will be paid their families as if they were in actual service while they are taking the training, and every method known to science will be used to restore our wounded men to health and usefulness.

THEORISTS NO LONGER

Modern efficiency records have removed the bone-dry advocate from the theorist class. He now has the goods, and the antiquated agitators who harp on the perils of prohibition are the theorists. Their most recent theorizing has pointed out the danger of cutting down shipyard production. No intelligent liquor propagandist claims nowadays that the workmen would lose physical efficiency by losing their liquor. But their claim that dissatisfaction would become so keen as to interfere with the utmost loyal effort. That aspersion on the loyalty of the workmen is an unwarranted libel. Many records have been established in prohibition territory shipyards, especially in Washington and Oregon. Conditions at Bare Island Navy yard are better than before the Vallejo grogshops were closed. The advantages of prohibition are no longer theoretical—the facts are against the wets! Now let's have that "dry" amendment ratified before 1920.

PATRIOTISM

Hollywood Citizen.—If one man desires to injure another these days he accuses him of lack of patriotism. He who expresses an honestly maintained opinion whether it be right or wrong, is sure to be called unpatriotic if he has an enemy.

And if an enemy cannot find anything in the present acts of another which he can declare to be unpatriotic he endeavors to find something in the man's speech, writing or conduct before this country entered the struggle which he might claim to be proof that the individual is still in sympathy with the enemy.

Before this country entered the great struggle and before the public fully understood the nature, the designs and the methods of the German government, there were multitudes of the citizens of this country whose sympathies were with the German government. If a man's patriotism were to be measured by his sympathies at that time the showing of American patriotism would not be flattering.

Today we find taking an active and unselfish part in the country's war activities men who never before in their lives gave one single thought to the country's welfare, men whose thought were concentrated upon their personal business. That they were ready to plunder their country before the war for private gain is perhaps true, but that they are today rendering a service to their country without which we can ill afford to be at this time, is also true.

Whatever the sins of the past, they are patriots today and rather than seek to reflect upon previous conduct we should only hope that their thought of humanity at the present time may so become a part of their lives that the same spirit will guide their conduct after the war, and that humanity's interests then, as today, will be uppermost in their minds.

THAT ALHAMBRA MEETING

Monrovia Messenger.—"Doggone a candidate who won't eliminate himself when he's been eliminated! Why couldn't those other fellows get out and let me have it!"

We don't know, but we have an idea this is the feeling of each congressional candidate who left the "elimination meeting" at Alhambra last week. Of all the farcical assemblages we have heard of politically, this "elimination meeting" was the worst. Each aspirant for the seat of Charles H. Randall in congress drummed up a string of constituents, motored to Alhambra, took the stage, "prepared for the supreme sacrifice—on the part of the other fellow."

One candidate would get up and make a speech while his constituents applauded. The followers of the other candidates sat around with expressions indicating that someone was pouring paint in the soup or stealing the prunes. But when it came time for THEIR candidate to orate, the flood gates of enthusiasm were opened, the sun shone thru rifts in the clouds and there was great exultation.

But not one was eliminated.

Naturally, these opponents of Mr. Randall passed resolutions condemning him for countless wrong-doings and evils and acts of omission. Because these resolutions will make wonderful "campaign thunder." They form a working basis. They give something to go on.

Outside of the interested parties, no one expected anything to be eliminated. But each, with his followers, thought possibly the other fellow would find he was out of place and gracefully retire. But none did. Possibly none will—until election day.
